A Check Every Month—For Life

When you take a trip for a few weeks or months, do you not always leave ample provision for those at home during your absence? What in the event of your being called away on that long journey—what then of them? Will the little ones come home from school some day to learn that their play days are over?

Will your widow—educated to an income—be compelled to face a cold, unsympathetic world, the pawn of necessity—a world in which it is a struggle for every the strong to succeed as breadwinners?

Will the cozy home you have maintained for them be forever closed? OR

Will they be forever shielded from strife, misery and want by the fruits of your industry and forethought—

New Year's Business Starts With A Rush

THE first half of the first month of the new year has opened up for El Paso in the real estate domain in a manner that is the precursor of splendid business throughout the remainder of the winter and the months of spring. Heavy transactions were made during the past week, in that prospective future zone of business bounded by Oregon on the west and Stanton on the east and these sales have ranged from $10,000 to $40,000. Most of the properties will be held temporarily as investment, but the general view is that they are to be converted into sites for business houses.

In the western part of the city, on Missouri and Upson streets a number of interesting apartment houses on a small scale are going up; while the residential building in this section is brisk and interesting. Bungalows continue to spread over the many new subdivisions of the city to the west and lying at the base of Mount Franklin, and the homes are being bought as homes, not rented as mere residences.

In the business section steady growth is manifest. The J. S. Lanier building nears completion; the handsome home of the Commercial National bank will soon be ready for tenancy; work is to begin on the new Popular store within 60 days; plans are being crystallized for a modern addition to take care of the growing business of Krakauer, Zork and Moye.

GAS APPLIANCES

need attention just like any other machine—they must be kept in working condition to get the best results. When your automobile does not give the power it should you do not blame the gasoline, you look for carburetor trouble. When your furnace does not heat up you do not blame the coal, you look for stoppage in the flues or regulate the drafts. When a servant does not do its work properly you do not blame the food it eats, you look for some other cause. Just so when your gas appliances do not work just right; don't blame the gas, look for the trouble and if you can't find it send for us.
